

These are sand castles from this year's competition at Harrison Hot Springs, British Columbia, Canada. They last until the weather wears them away. Harrison Hot Springs is well known for their perfect sand for building sand castles, as you can see by these photos.

